CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

First District. Riley County.
JOHN A. ANDERSON.
Second District. Douglas County.
DUDLEY C. HASKELL.
Third District. Shawnee County.
THOMAS RYAN.

THE re-nomination of Hon. D. C. Haskell for Member of Congress seems to be generally well received by Republicans, not only in this district, but throughout the State as well. Mr. H.'s course in Congress was very satisfactory to his constituents, and he will be elected this fall by a larger majority than ever.

THE Indianapolis Journal suggests that Voorhees and McDonald hold a joint discussion on the finance question. As these men are Democratic senators from the same State, and hold opposite views on the most important question of the day, we have no doubt but that such a discussion would prove exceedingly interesting.

JEREMIAH S. BLACK is pretty good Democratic authority, and he says this of Gen. Grant: "Mr. Grant in his personal character, is the most upright President we have had in forty years. There was stealing all around him. Almost alone, he stands untinged, the only person who could stand the heat of the fiery ordeal."

THE York Tribune gives Republicans the following sound advice concerning the Congressional elections this fall: "The way to attack the elections this fall is to proceed on the supposition that Republican gains in the South are almost out of the question, and to put the hardest kind of work into all the close Northern districts. If a few Southern districts happen along to swell the majority, why so much the better."

HON. THOS. RYAN.

In the re-nomination of Hon. Thomas Ryan the Republicans of the Third District have made an excellent choice. Mr. R. is a man of decided ability, and has had the experience of one session to help him besides. He had an able competitor in the convention, and a re-nomination under such circumstances, by a vote of nearly three to one, shows that his past services in Congress have been eminently satisfactory to his constituents. The action of the convention is highly creditable to Mr. Ryan, and to the district as well. It insures the return of a good man to a place that he has honestly and capably filled.

JOHN A. ANDERSON.

The Republicans of the First Congressional District met in delegate convention at Manhattan last week, and after a somewhat exciting contest, nominated John A. Anderson for Congress. Mr. A. is a man of long time, President of the State Agricultural College, and is well known and highly esteemed in his district. It is almost solely due to his able management, that this institution has acquired the reputation which it now so justly enjoys, of being one of the best schools in the State, so far as mere scholarship, in the common acceptance of the term, is concerned, besides having the advantages of its fine industrial departments. He is a good speaker, and a courteous, genial man—a true gentleman in every particular. No man is better posted in the wants and needs of his district, and no new man could have been selected who would possess more influence in Congress than he will be likely to have. We congratulate the Republicans of the First District on their choice, and predict the election of Mr. Anderson by the largest majority the district has ever given to anyone.

TROUBLE IN THE CAMP.

There appears to trouble brewing in the camp of the Missouri Democracy of the Kansas City Congressional district. Col. Crisp's nomination was only made after a very bitter and long protracted fight, and a good many Democrats seem to have too much independence to eat the State Treasury ring with becoming humility. It is possible that the fact that the State is likely to lose something over half a million of dollars through the management of the men who mainly dictated the nomination of the Liberty convention, has a little something to do with it. The certainty of the heavy tax levy that will be required to make good this deficit, is not a particularly pleasing prospect to the average tax payer—no matter what may be his politics—and he feels a little sore over the matter. At any rate there is trouble of a serious nature brewing, or else the Kansas City Times would never have sent up the following doleful word, in a recent editorial headed "A Word with the Dissatisfied":

"A dissatisfied spectator of current political events in this county and congressional district would be puzzled, we suspect, to form any rational theory in his own mind to account for the clamor among a certain class of Democrats against Col. Crisp."

LETTER FROM TEXAS.

BOSMAN, Fannin County, Texas, August 18th, 1878.

Editor Register:

Dear Sir: After so long a delay I write this in compliance with a promise I made to many of the readers of your paper, and old friends and neighbors. We started from Iola, Kansas, on the 28th day of May, struck the Indian Nation at Baxter Springs, then through the Nation to Dennison, Texas.

There is some very fine land in the Nation, but, in my opinion, it is greatly overrated. The roads were good in some places and in others so bad that they did not deserve to be called roads. In places they were mountainous and rocky and when we reached the Boggy Bottoms we thought the name hardly any comparison for the mud we had to drag through. We got through all right, however, our teams standing the trip very well. The green head flies were very bad in places. When we got to Red river the ferryman told us we might take the covers off our mules and that we would not see any more green heads, which we found to be the case, for we have not been troubled with them since. There is a small black fly here that bothers stock considerably. It resembles the house fly.

We got to this place on the 22d of June. After stopping around a few days we rented a house for the family to stop in and pastures for our teams, after which I started out to take a look at the country. Harris, Christy, of Terre Haute, Indiana, and John Boyd, of Texas, went with me. We started on the 8th of July and traveled four weeks, passing through Gascon, Cook, Montague, Clay, Jack, Polo Pinto, Earth, Comanche, Brown, McCulloch, Hamilton, Bosque, Sumner, Vile, Johnson, (Ft. Worth in Tarrant county) Dallas and Collin counties. We found crops good in all the country that we saw except where the land was flat black soil that had been so wet that it could not be cultivated. Land of that class is a failure this year.

In a portion of Brown and Comanche they have had a hail storm that destroyed their crop of corn and cotton entirely for a space of about 8 by 20 miles, as near as we could learn. We saw a great deal of corn that I consider good for any country. I think it will average 40 bushels to the acre on all the rolling land that has been any thing like well cultivated. The people here tell me that this has been an uncommonly wet season. There is a great deal of cotton that has not been tended at all on account of wet weather, but where it was planted on rolling land that would drain, it has been cultivated and looks well. Stock of all kinds appears to be healthy and doing well, except hogs. They are poor and in some places are dying with what is thought to be cholera.

As to the country in general, in my opinion, it has its bad qualities as well as its good. The land is very spotted, some being almost as rich and good as I have ever seen and some as poor. In most of the country that I have seen timber is tolerably plentiful but it is short and scrubby. On the uplands it is mostly post and live oak but on the streams it is larger and in places very good walnut, pecan, hickory, ash, elm, cottonwood and buisland and many other varieties. In some places, for a short distance, water is rather scarce, and not good at that, in other localities it is plenty and good. In Cook county there are some nice running streams of water as I have ever seen in my life. It was so clear that a fish could be seen at the bottom in six feet of water and there are a great many springs. Although the water does not appear to be as cold as your Kansas wells still it is very good and there appears to be but little trouble to get it by digging. Notwithstanding this there are some people that haul their water in barrels from the creeks and pools and use it and appear to be satisfied. They say it is the best water in the country and contend that it is more healthy. The people where we traveled appeared to be in first rate health, until a few days before we got home, we found some sickness and here in Fannin county there is considerable at present, not of a very serious nature, a costly cholera and fever.

The weather is very warm here at present. As soon as it gets a little cooler we expect to move out west to what is called the Keechi Valley. The line dividing Jack and Polo Pinto counties runs through this valley. This, I think, taken all together is as good, if not the best locality we saw. The land is mostly a dark sandy soil with plenty of water, timber and rock. Here the mesquite grass predominates making both summer and winter grazing and the mesquite timber will make good fire wood, besides the beans which it bears are said to fatten hogs and horses equal to corn. This I do not vouch for, still I have seen hogs under the trees eating the beans that have ripened and fallen off while other trees were in full bloom and still others with beans just formed and to all appearances they will still keep ripening until fall.

As to fruit culture there is a great difference of opinion here, still I have eaten as fine peaches here as I ever did in Kansas and where there are trees that have been taken care of they have plenty and the same of apples. The apples are not of as good a variety, so far as I have seen, as you have in Kansas. I have bought all the apples at the orchards here that we have wanted at 50c per bushel. Watermelons grow very fine here and gardens appear to do first rate and come on a great deal earlier than in Kansas. We have been having sweet potatoes the last week. Irish potatoes grow well here but this year the weather has been so wet and warm that they have had to dig them and they do not appear to keep well.

Now I will say to all who may have thought of coming to this country not to let this letter influence them but to act upon their own judgment. While this country might suit and please one man another man would not like it. I have not been here long enough to satisfy myself fully about the country but still I do not regret my move, yet I moved to this country more on account of my wife's health than any thing else. She has been afflicted with asthma for many years and it appeared to get worse there. She appears to be getting better of it now and we feel in great hopes that she will get entirely well of it. She had an attack of fever and chills, last week she had three, but is now up and improving very fast and is not troubled in the least with the asthma and the doctor tells her that she will not be, that the climate and chills cure the disease every time.

Hoping that you will insert this in your paper or consign it to the waste, as you think proper, I remain yours, respectfully.

JAMES FAULKNER.

SWINE-RAISING.

We fine in one of our exchanges, the following remarks concerning the rearing of hogs, which many of our farmers will do well to heed:

The general principles, or more properly, the general want of principles, in breeding and rearing swine for the butcher, indulged in by the majority of breeders, has had a two fold tendency for evil. First, we breed too early. A sow of two years, not under, is sure to be strong, healthy, and the mother is able to nurse them up to six weeks, so as to give them a start not easily lost, even by after neglect. Then, when a sow proves to be a good mother in every particular, she should be kept busy, two broods a year, for ten years. The time lost the first two years is amply regained afterwards.

Next, we grow hogs of a weakly character, with every part of the system so delicate that disease is invited and perpetuated. This condition is brought about by feeding corn constantly, the most debilitating, fever inviting, stunting kind of food ever invented for any growing animal. Roots until maturity, a good range, and corn only in very severe weather, and while fattening.

Hog cholera is the product of weak stock multiplied by heating food, or in a mathematical phrase, multiply a drove of hogs by as many constant bell-fills of corn, and you have the constant product—hog cholera.

Let your hogs choose between roots and corn, and you will grow nine-tenths roots, and one tenth corn; the pork will weigh fifty per cent. more in the fall; be entirely free of disease, and if fattened quickly will pay.

A HURMBURG.

The first item following is from a strong greenback paper. The second from the Democratic organ of Miami county, the Spirit. I then refer to a noted eastern humbug.

A paper published in New York, called the Advocate, is getting an immense circulation in the West, and is being ventilated in proportion. Shupe, its editor, has been shown to be a first class fraud, a bankrupt, and a confidence man. The paper is red hot greenback, but is said to be kept up by money contributed by the bondholders, to mislead and sell out the greenbackers. This looks plausible, from the fact that the Advocate, a large weekly paper, is sent to subscribers for 25 cents a year, only about one-third the price of the white paper on which it is printed. The publisher claims that he makes his money on advertising. But the advertising appears to be in great part of the vilest class, calculated to ruin the young. So that the Advocate is a bad investment, no matter which way you take it.

Walter H. Shupe, editor of the National Greenback Advocate, a newspaper published in New York, pretended in the interest of the Greenback party, has gone into bankruptcy. The Advocate has quite a large circulation in this country, the subscription price being only 25 cents, which is about one-fourth the price of the paper on which it is printed. Its numerous 25 cent subscribers will consider themselves sold cheap, and be glad that the sum is no larger. It is possible the paper may be continued for awhile under the management of the corporation which Shupe swears owns the paper, but its permanent suspension is only a question of a little time.

D. M. Edgerton, acting president of the Kansas Pacific, gives notice that the lands of that company have been disposed of within the meaning of the law, and that any and all attempts to preempt lands granted to the company will be vigorously contested. In support of the decision Mr. E. quotes an opinion of Judge J. S. Black, ex-Attorney General of the United States, who holds that the mortgage given by the company on its land grant, was in effect a sale, that it was legally executed, and that it will hold against any pre-emption under the ruling of Secretary Schurz, which is not final in any event, and must be reviewed and confirmed by the courts in order to establish its legality.—Commonwealth.

THERE has been a very decided change in the tone of the New York papers in regard to the course of the Potter committee towards Secretary Sherman. The disparaging doubt and half-confident innuendoes indulged in at the beginning, have given place to strong expressions favorable to the Secretary. The Herald says the whole "letter" business was a discreditable Democratic blunder, and the Tribune and Evening Post regard the whole investigation as a failure. They agree that what remains for the committee to do is to report a vindication as complete as it is made out by the testimony, and that it owes an apology both to the Secretary and the public.—Athenaeum Champion.

We are gratified to learn of the success of Congressman Haskell in the Second District. He deserved a re-nomination, for he has made an able and honorable Congressman. He made the most brilliant canvass in that district two years ago that was ever made by a candidate for office in Kansas, and his conduct in Washington has fully met the expectations of friends who predicted for him a successful official career.—Junction City Union.

LOCAL MATTERS.

—New hay is coming in lively.

—School days will soon be here.

—Mrs. Wing has been quite sick this week.

—A. S. Haukins, of Elm, is on the sick list.

—Read Mr. Pike's advertisement of his shoe shop.

—Important information among the "local notes."

—Business was unusually good in town last Saturday.

—The school house is being put in thorough repair.

—J. H. Richards is at home from his recent trip east.

—Remember the old settlers meeting next Thursday.

—Mr. Isaac Welch has been very sick for a week or so.

—Mr. Post has lost a large number of hogs with cholera.

—The masonry at the railroad bridge is about completed.

—Are you going to the grand temperance camp meeting.

—Miss Ida Cochran has accepted a position in Yates' store.

—Mr. Buchanan is around again after a severe spell of sickness.

—Mr. Allison still remains about the same. Slowly recovering.

—Mr. Ingersoll visited the northern part of the State this week.

—Mr. A. E. Warner and wife, of Ohio are visiting at Mr. Bassett's.

—Mrs. Theodore Johnson and family, of Neodesha, are up on a visit.

—It has been very warm part of this week; Wednesday particularly.

—Prof. Shomon, formerly of Iola, is now postmaster at Empire City.

—Mr. McChesney, of Warren county, Ohio, is visiting at Mr. Cook's at present.

—Our land office firms have been doing a big business the past week or so.

—We presume the school board will have the primary school building painted.

—The District Fair has sent out some very attractive bills, printed in colors.

—D. W. Bostwick has been assisting Bowlin in showing land buyers around.

—If a person has a tendency for ague these warm days and nights will develop it.

—Messrs. Elliott & Clark have had a couple thousand cards printed for their hotel.

—Mr. John McDonald and several of his family have been sick for a week or so past.

—Remember, child, remember our county fair commencing the 17th of next month.

—"Quilp's" letter from Marmaton township, was received too late for last week's paper.

—J. R. Berry, of Geneva, has been bleaching out for awhile. He is getting around again.

—Iola and Geneva boys are "sawing" each other about base ball. They'll have another tilt soon.

—Mr. English's folks have been sick for a week or so. His oldest boy was nearly sunstruck recently.

—Judge Bell deserves a re-nomination for the office of County Attorney and will get it, we predict.

—Eddie Lorance, son of David and Sarah Lorance, died August 14th, 1878, aged one year and six months.

—The wagon wheel of a wagon on which Wm. Conley was hauling hay broke down in the street Thursday.

—Mr. L. E. Smith, of Humboldt, dropped in to see us Monday. He has recently opened a grocery store there.

—A reception was held at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Richards, Tuesday evening, for Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bell.

—The third one of Iola beat the Humboldt boys three to one last Saturday. Humboldt never could play base ball.

—Prof. Hoover, who formerly taught the public school at this place, will take charge of the Neodesha school this fall.

—Mr. Eschbaugh has sold out his interest in the meat market to Ellis, who will hereafter dish up the choice steaks.

—Mr. Robt. Cook has the worst kind of catarrh in his hand. There is some fear that he will lose one of his fingers.

—Bowlin sold Mr. John Gotlob, of Christian county, Illinois, 80 acres of railroad land, lying east of town, this week.

—A mass convention of the Democracy will be held at the court house to-day for the purpose of nominating a county ticket.

—The officers of the fair have had a water proof roof put on the fair building. Don't you forget that no goods will be damaged this year.

—Mr. Rhodabarger while at work at his moving machine last Tuesday, had the end pinched off his thumb. Dr. Fulton amputated it at the first joint.

—The blue ribbon folks and the Good Templars should unite and make war on the enemy. Possibly the approaching county political campaign has cooled the zeal of some of the spring converts!

—And now comes Mr. George Sleeper, from New York State and purchases of Mr. Bowlin 340 acres of railroad land, lying east of this place. Mr. S. is just the kind of men we want in this country.

—From Yonkers, New York, comes Mr. Richard Ward, who, after thorough examining the merits of the soil and future prospects of this county backs his judgment by the purchase of eighty odd acres of land, Mr. George A. Bowlin making the sale.

—Thursday next, all persons who have been in the county over fifteen years, will be expected to attend the meeting at this place, to form an old settlers society.

—The Kansas Monthly, by J. S. Boughton, is the name of a new monthly periodical, published at Lawrence, one dollar per annum. It's as bright as a new dollar.

—We have received a complimentary card from the Wilson County Agricultural Society to attend their fair at Neodesha, commencing Sept. 17th and lasting four days.

—It don't take but a few days' sickness to make folks look "peaked" this kind of weather. The extremely cool nights and hot days are not conducive to good health.

—Mr. Chance, who has been running a saw mill up the river had his foot severely mashed last Thursday while at work in the mill. He will be laid up for awhile.

—We have received a copy of the Republican Citizen, a paper just started at Paola, Kansas. It is a fine appearing, well conducted paper, and straight Republican in politics.

—Mr. G. T. Inge of Neosho Falls, dropped in to see us a short time Thursday. He was canvassing for "ads" for the daily fair journal and was well pleased with his success here.

—Mr. G. M. Bell has concluded to enter the real estate business at this place. He is at present east but will return in a week or two. Mr. Bell's card appears in our local columns.

—We owe Miss Mary Scott an apology, which is hereby tendered, for making a miserable blunder in her name two weeks running. We are determined to correct that mistake if it takes all summer.

—Mr. James Woodward, lately from Bureau county, Illinois, purchased through the land agency of Geo. A. Bowlin, 80 acres of railroad land the present week. And still they come.

—If some one should have a stove blown to pieces some morning we shall take great pleasure in writing up the affair. Our wood pile vanishes as deftly as the early frost before the morning sun.

—The city marshal informs us that he will enforce the ordinances of the city in all instances hereafter. One gentleman was hauled up before the police judge last week and fined for riding over sidewalks.

—Owing to the sickness of Mr. Allison the meeting of the central committee is held a little late this year. The county convention will be called as soon as possible after their meeting—probably about the middle of September.

—Ample provision is being made to accommodate all who may attend the fair from a distance. Parties in the eastern states who contemplate visiting Kansas should make it a point to be in this section during the Allen county and District Fairs.

—Our watermelon friends—or friends who have grown mammoth water melons—will find us up stairs, stone block, south side public square, Iola, Allen County, Kansas, United States of America. Don't forget the location, or invitation embodied above.

—Our base ball boys felt a little bad over the account of their being beaten at Humboldt a week or so ago, claiming that they played against men. At this place last Saturday the two nines were very nearly matched and the result was three to one in favor of the Iola third nine.

—The Secretary of the Kansas City Exposition will accept our thanks for a complimentary. We notice that the association have made a positive contract with the owner of the celebrated trotter "Barus" to trot against time at Kansas City on the 4th day of the Exposition.

—Only a few weeks more and the Allen county agricultural association will open up the fair gates to the largest crowd ever assembled in the county and that crowd will be entertained with better agricultural displays and faster trotting than has ever before exhibited in the county.

—We are accustomed to speak in praise of everything in our beautiful Neosho valley, but a drive over the uplands east of town, or out on the lowlands of the head waters of Elm, Rock, or Deer creeks, convinces us that Allen County can't be beat for fine, fertile, natural farms.

—Benton Duncan, stepson of Mr. Drennon, of Deer Creek, on last Saturday, while unloading a drag rake from a wagon, pitched the rake from the wagon and then fell upon one of the teeth which penetrated his abdomen three inches in depth. Dr. Fulton was called and the patient is doing well.

—The Republican Central Committee will meet at the court house a week from to-day. The members from the different townships are as follows: P. R. McClure, Geneva; Wm. Davis, Deer Creek; D. D. Britton, Osage; J. P. Delaplaine, Elm; C. P. Keith, Marmaton; W. G. Allison, Iola; Isaac Bonebrake, Salem; J. W. Cox, Elmore; J. W. Risley, Humboldt; B. F. Walton, Cottage Grove.

—Guard well your health this warm weather and watch closely to see that you do not eat or drink too much. If you are now in possession of vigorous health you cannot appreciate the miserable condition of those who by hard work or excessive study, or wrong diet, or what not, have lost the inestimable boon of sound health. Therefore, we say again, guard well the state of your physical being.

—Mr. J. P. Delaplaine last week repurchased of Mr. Soule, his old farm in Elm township. Mr. D. is now in Illinois, but will probably come back to Kansas and take possession of his old place, this fall.

—Married, Monday evening, August 19th, 1878, by Rev. Thos. Bartlett, Mr. James Holt and Miss Sallie E. Lackens, of this place. It was quite a surprise to their many friends but no less a pleasant one. The best wishes of the community are tendered the happy couple. They will remain at their old home, Mr. Cook's, for awhile, when they will start out for themselves. Bon voyage.

—From every township comes the cheering word that everybody is making preparations to attend the county fair at Iola, next month. The display of farm products will be the finest in this part of the State. In the speed ring the liberal premiums are attracting the attention of horse men and enough is known to determine that that part of the fair will be a grand success. The ladies too, will outshine all previous attempts in their departments.

—Mr. James Townsend, whose farm is situated across the river from Iola, is ahead on the peach question, so far. Last Saturday he brought to this office three peaches weighing over a pound and a half. The largest weighing 8 1/2 ounces. They were of the Early Crawford variety. Dr. Strong, out in Marmaton township, brought in some the same day that nearly equaled those brought by Mr. Townsend. The late peach crop is good.

—From our stock dealers we learn that since the 1st of February up to August 1st, there have been shipped from this station 105 cars of stock, about 35 cars of cattle and 70 cars of hogs. An average of 18 head of cattle and 50 head of hogs were shipped per car making 630 head of cattle and 3500 head of hogs. These shipments have all been made since the winter market and of course are much below the previous six months. It's a pretty good showing for this point, however.

—There is some complaint made in regard to the road overseer not working the road east of town. It is claimed that if nothing is done that next winter the people east of town will have an impassible mud hole to cross. The road overseer should attend to that place at once for it always has been a bad place and now that the land is fenced on both sides there will be no chance of getting around it. The bridge over the runs in some instances are down. The road south of town can afford to wait awhile.

—John Brown sold his farm on Rock Creek, one and one half miles east of Iola, to Mr. McCloud, of Kosciusko county, Indiana, the present week. The sale was made through the land agency of Geo. A. Bowlin. John will take a trip out west, we understand; but we will wager a copper cent against a penny that he buys another farm right here in old Allen before another six months rolls around. It is an impossibility for an old timer like J. L. to leave this country. We are glad to welcome Mr. McCloud to Kansas and congratulate him upon getting such a choice farm.

—Tuesday last, out in Salem township, a little shooting scrape, wherein four men, Murray, Burgess, Watson and Oliver were concerned, resulted in Oliver being shot in the head, the ball grazing, making a bad scalp wound. The fuss came up about some grass, both parties claiming the right to mow it. The man Murray shot Oliver and that night left the country. Burgess was arrested as accessory, his trial being held before Esquire Nichols, of Humboldt, yesterday. Oliver is a white man the other parties being colored. Of the result of the trial of Burgess we did not learn. Oliver has a bad scalp wound. The shooting was done with a revolver.

—It was with pleasure we made the acquaintance of Mr. Gustavus Krueger, of LaSalle, Illinois, this week. In company with his son, Mr. Otto Krueger and Mr. John Goemmer, of the same place, he has been looking over our county during the past week and has purchased of Mr. D. W. Bostwick 280 acres of land north-east of town. Mr. K. is one of the finest business men we have met in a long time; knows good land when he sees it and his judgment will do to tie to. We hope Mr. K. may be persuaded to locate in Iola for we need just such men in this community. The sale was made through Bowlin's land agency.

—Here's to J. L. Wise, and may he live long and prosper. Our sanetum was invaded Tuesday and over our table poured a peck or so of the nicest peaches that ever printer ate. Our "old boy" made himself sick in the vain attempt to surround a few of the beauties; the editor broke several buttons off trying to eat them up before some one else should come in; and all day long and far into the night did our hungry compositors labor and groan. A vote of thanks was passed unanimously and Mr. J. L. Wise voted a gentleman and a scholar and that his name should be enrolled high up among those who don't forget the printer. Selah!
